Claim(s):

What is claimed for this invention is:

- 1) A Headrest and Screen Cover that is made of material (Leather, Velour, Suede, etc.) similar to the interior of the vehicle.
- 2) A Headrest and Screen Cover that closely resembles the original shape, color and size of the headrest and which is easily installed or removed for cleaning or replacement.
- 3) A Headrest and Screen Cover that fits over the existing headrest cover without damaging the original headrest cover or making any modifications to the headrest.
- 4) A Headrest and Screen Cover that protects the original headrest cover by reducing wear and damage to the original headrest cover. The Headrest and Screen Cover can be used to cover or hide already soiled or worn headrest covers.
- 5) A Headrest and Screen Cover designed to fit most popular most popular vehicles, including those that have seats with an integrated (no separate) headrest.

- 6) A Headrest and Screen Cover, which is: (a) either fastened with a zipper or Velcro and, (b) when Velcro is used, the Velcro is strategically placed in a vertical position at the bottom of the Headrest and Screen Cover.
- 7) A Headrest and Screen Cover that can be cut/trimmed for a snug fit.
- 8) A Headrest and Screen Cover with a removable rear panel, held in place with a zipper or Velcro.
- 9) A Headrest and Screen Cover with a removable panel which can be decorated to express ones pride, position, support or association with a specific culture, sport, hobby, group, religious or political belief.
- 10) A Headrest and Screen Cover that can be used to advertise a business, group or a cause.
- 11) A replacement panel for the Headrest and Screen Cover, which can be used to advertise a business, group, cause or to customize a vehicle.
- 12) A Headrest and Screen Cover with a removable panel, which permits viewing of a television or video screen, installed in the headrest, without requiring removal of the entire Headrest and Screen Cover.
- 13) A Headrest and Screen Cover, which conceals a television/video screen installed in the headrest.
- 14) A Headrest and Screen Cover, which serves to protect a television/video screen from excessive exposure to sunlight, dust, dirty hands, food or drinks.
